CONDÉ NAST TRAVELER ANNOUNCES THE GREEN LIST: 12th ANNUAL TRIBUTE TO ECOTOURISM'S FINEST

(New York, NY) Condé Nast Traveler's annual search to identify ecotourism's crème de la crème combs every corner of the earth, from the steamy Amazon, to the parched Moroccan desert, to frigid Antarctica, tracking down candidates that exemplify earth-friendly travel. Covering every continent, these hotels, tour operators, and destinations are the best of more than 80 candidates who applied this year. Condé Nast Traveler's panel of judges, drawn from academia, government agencies, and green travel companies, rate each property on their environmental initiatives, contributions to the local community, and the quality of the guest experience. This year's top scorer is the Nihiwatu Resort on the remote island of Sumba in Indonesia. The complete list (as seen below) of properties and judges is detailed in the September issue of Condé Nast Traveler.
